Mr. Hooper:

We just wanted to let you know what a pleasure it is working with MSI as an employer of our students.

As we try to constantly improve our program, it's important to have industry partners who believe in our educational mission. As you have hired several of our students in the last five years, we have found that your company provides superior training and support, especially in commercial heating and air conditioning. Although we provide basic HVAC and employability skills, it is quite clear that you value continued instruction through our cooperative education program. Our students and graduates are gaining advanced service and technical skills as they work with your employees on technically superior equipment.

The bottom line is that partnering with companies like yours; we can provide higher quality training to the students at this school and tremendous opportunities in the HVAC industry.

Thank you again for everything, if you have any suggestions for our program or would like to visit our site, please call.

Sincerely,

ThomasBelland
